

Dear AYLC and Starfish partners,

In behalf of the editorial board of Starfish Magazine, we would like to share with you the call for proposals for the magazine's next issue with the theme: More than the usual.

Starfish Magazine: Call for Proposals
"More than the Usual" Issue

Starfish Magazine, the first youth empowerment magazine in the country, has achieved overwhelming responses from our our last issue, "Superheroes". The Editorial Board thanks all who have subscribed and bought their copies; thank you very much for supporting our efforts.

We are on the production of our next issue with the theme, "More than the Usual". We shall focus on articles on innovations in different fields. Could be business, organizational, exemplars of good practices, anything really. You could talk about fashion, music, politics, art, film, food, technology, environment, romance, faith... And the list goes on. We are inviting you to submit articles, photo essays, cartoons, among others.
